

Buckinghamshire Family Information Service

Who we are, what we do...

The Buckinghamshire Family Information Service (BFIS) is a free, impartial service providing information, advice, and guidance for young people, families and professionals. We provide information on a range of topics relating to family life, from childcare, local services and education, to health, money and Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND).

Childcare and Children's Centres

With our online search you can:

- Find childminders, nurseries, holiday childcare and breakfast or after-school clubs in our up to date, Ofsted-registered directory.
- Search for childminders offering school pickups and drop offs by school, town, or postcode and find SEND experienced childminders.
- Find your nearest Children's Centre and search for sessions and activities.

What's on

Discover things to do in Buckinghamshire:

- Family days out, clubs, groups and school holiday activities.
- Search by: type of activity, location, age groups and SEND inclusivity.
- Locate parks and open spaces as well as free and low cost activities under £3.

Local Offer

Accessible information on Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND):

- Services and support available including: benefits, education and activities.
- What local schools have to offer, policies and reports.
- Social Care and preparing for adulthood.

Youthspace

Information for young people:

- Local youth clubs, groups and activities.
- Staying safe, health, wellbeing, education and money.
- Your space: a blog to create, comment and share.

Early Help

Ensuring children and families receive the support they need at the right time by allowing professionals to:

- Locate local service providers by level of need.
- Connect with other professionals using our "Professionals' Directory".
- Use "my favourites" to build up contact lists to print, save and share.
